The choir of the First Presbyterian church will meet at 8 o'clock this afternoon for practice. Members take notes.

A Nice Donation.
Graham Bros. sent a check for forty dollars to the fire company for their splendid work at the recent fire on Lee street.

A Suit Filled.
In the district clerk's office yesterday a suit was filed of Mary J. Heffer vs. D. W. Ryan et al, for debt and for costs.

Local Market.
Lard sold yesterday a little lower bringing 12 to 14-16 cents. Sore cotton 45-50 to 52-50. There were 14 bales received making a total of 173 bales.

Taken Suddenly Ill.
Yesterday evening at six o'clock Mrs. P. B. Nix was taken suddenly ill at her home on South King street. At a late hour she was reported as resting as well as could be expected.

Concrete Culverts.
Commissioners Whitfield and Minahan saw a trial of the new concrete culvert building machine on the road at Concord. It seems to do the work. The commissioners have not fully decided whether to buy the machine or not.

Examination of Teachers.
Yesterday morning the county board of examiners took up the work of a teachers examination at the Houston club rooms. Prof. Day of Commerce, Thomas of Caddo Mills, and McCann of this city are the examiners. There is a small attendance. The examinations will continue today.

Conference Lay Leader.
At the recent meeting of the North Texas Conference at Wichita Falls, C. A. Ledy was appointed lay leader for the conference. Mr. Ledy only received notice of the appointment yesterday. This is a small honor and one which the friends of Mr. Ledy think is well bestowed.

Rola Douglas Dead.
D. H. Ross received a dispatch yesterday stating that Rola Douglas had died at San Angelo. He was a brother of Mrs. Ross and a son of Mr. Douglas formerly a grocer here who died a few years ago. Rola Douglas was 25 years old and was reared here where he was well known and liked. He moved to San Angelo five years ago. He leaves a wife and several children.

Called to Lovelady.
Rev. H. E. Harris left yesterday for Lovelady where he has been called to the church as pastor. Rev. Harris has resided in this city two years, serving the Hunt County Baptist Association as county missionary in a manner very satisfactory. Under his direction much work has been done for the cause he represented. His family is now visiting at Taylor and will go from there to their home at Lovelady.

Bringing His Son Home.
Dr. Spaulding received yesterday a message from Capt. John S. Robinson sent from Okla. Okla., which asked the doctor to meet him at Denison which place he would reach this morning. Dr. Spaulding went to Denison on the limited last night. This would indicate that Capt. Robinson's son has so far recovered from his recent severe injuries as to be brought home.

At the Lyric.
Ed Selvin has a unique and winning act presenting a number of unusual and first class card tricks and while doing them does some "talking" that keeps the audience in an almost continuous laugh. Jess and Dell in their German comedy offering have an act that is entirely out of the ordinary, something brand new to this place. Their illusion act is good and they use paper mache figures in some of their turns. There are new motion pictures every day and the entire program is above the average.

At the Colonial.
The feature of today's program is an exceptionally pretty little comedy drama "How Sue Won Him." The story is about a young man supposed to be rich whose father dies and leaves him penniless. He is engaged to an heiress and when she hears of his misfortune she starts to work as a stenographer in her uncle's office and refuses to break the engagement. Of course everything turns out all right and "They live happily ever after." The rest of the program is excellent.

IN THE BONEYARD.

Some blamed good fellows lie asleep down yonder where the grass waves, but no one ever comes to weep or plant rose bushes on their graves. They calmly rest in pauper's beds, and wait the judgment, in a row, no shining tombstones over their heads, no requiem but the winds that blow. They were the shiftless, shifting lads, upon a weary world turned loose; they never learned to mind the acids, and wait them down for winter use. It's pretty tough that some must sleep in unmarked bargain-counter graves, because their plunks can't keep; the honors for the man who saves. A man whose eyes are wide apart, whose hands are reaching in his jeans, who listens rather to his heart than to the teachings of his brain, is apt to join the plunger crowd and perish after many smoke, and wear a cheap old-fashioned shroud, and slumber in a miserable box. Whereas, if he is shrewd and wise, with lips that close up like a lock, and hands that hang to wait their camp, his death will fill the town with gloom, and mourners will bewail the day, and he will have a cooling tomb in which to rest the years away—Walt Mason.
